HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 10, 1879.

LORD Carnaryon has laid it down that this Colony of Hongkong has been regarded hitherto in the Colonial Office "as a place per se to be dealt with on principles which might not be sanctioned elsewhere. The existing laws were indeed introduced with the express object of providing for the Colony a security for. person and property which was wanting previously, and whatever the actual cause, it is not denied that that security has, since those laws were passed, been obtained." It must be a source of gratification to obtain such a clear corroboration of the policy of government which, until the advent of Mr Pope Hennessy, has found favour with the various administrations within the memory of the older residents; and we cannot but express our satisfaction that the ablest administrator that Hongkong has yet seen (Sir Richard MacDonnell) should be so entirely exonerated from the paltry aspersions passed upon his policy by the present less able but more assertive head of the Executive during the last two years.

The part played by the Colonial Surhome, on the effects of flogging on the pore this afternoon (10th), for Hongkong. back, has been grossly exaggerated. It is no doubt a fact that, coming as Dr | DEPY. Surgeon-General Mackinnon com-Ayres did to this Colony with his Indian prejudices-where all floggings and canings are laid on the breech-he was impressed with the fact that flogging on the back is more apt to congest the lungs of a man so predisposed, than would a Kwok Ping Ki, a little boy about two years similar punishment on the breech. Medical men who have been in India are proverbial for quoting their experiences and applying their favourite modes of action wherever they go. Nothing therefore was more natural than that the Colonial Surgeon should seek to ventilate his theory in this connection. It is now generally admitted that this was done incautiously; and the circumstances under which the hastily-formed opinion was uttered gave to it an importance which otherwise would never have been attached to it. Mr Hennessy seized upon it as a Heaven-sent message which was destined to help him mightily in the furtherance of his favourite crotchets and the opinion, if such it may be called, instead of remaining (what it was) merely the impression of a busy medical man based upon a limited experience of the subject—as it was wisely permitted to remain on being reported to Sir Arthur Kennedy in 1876-it was trumpeted forth to the world as one of the crying evils of the cruel criminal system of Hongkong which Mr Pope Hennessy had appeared to reform. Touching the case of Wong Akwai-one of those harrowing instances of phthisis in the Gaol of which so much has been sought to be made-Lord Carnarvon, in a despatch approving of that prisoner's release, says-" Under the circumstances, and whatever be the causes from which dling. This is the first time entries ha release." It is significant, that the opinion of the Indian Medical Board. under the presidency of Sir Joseph Fayrer, K.C.S.I., called for by Lord Carnaryon, should bear so striking a resemblance to the opinion given by Drs Wells and O'Brien on the spot. And indeed the history of this question is merely an illustration of the tendency shown by Mr Hennessy to look only at one side of a subject, to magnify the facts in favour of his preconceived notions, and to ignore those on the other side. Another short despatch from the pen of the Earl of Carnarvon, dated the same Per Arratoon Apcar and Moray, at 2.30 day (Jan. 3, 1878) as the lengthy document already quoted, is deserving of a little publicity. It is published amongst the "Papers relating to the Flogging of both Houses of Parliament (August 1879), and immediately follows the despatch we published in full Saturday. It relates to the case of Mok Akwai, who died of phthisis in Gaol. It may be mentioned here that Drs Wells and O'Brien were "not prepared possibility) that the disease in him was | French squadron on the China Station, the

This short despatch deals adopted by the Commodore in firing his with voluminous representations made by Mr Hennessy regarding the illegal punishments the discovery of which so shocked the Governor-representations which were most fully ventilated by Mr Hennessy ad nauscam only five |-21 guns to the Colony, for that salute to weeks ago in replying to Mr Keswick. be then acknowledged by the Royal Artil-Well, there does not appear to have been any adequate impression made upon the mind of Lord Carnatvon by these tales of cruelty and illegality. His Lordship does not respond to the call in any satisfactory manner; and his reply is very similar to the advice tendered by the Attorney General (Mr Phillippo) in a similar case some six months previous to the date of the noble lord's reply. Mr Phillippo wrote, on Chun Tin Lam's case, on 12th June 1877the man (or boy) who got one stroke too many—as follows :- "If His Excellency objects to the power given to Magistrates under the Ordinance, the proper course to be taken seems to me to take the necessary steps in order to get the case Lord Carnarvon wrote thus:-8. With regard to the illegality pointed out in paragraph 8 of your despatch and adverted upon by the Attorney General, viz., that the prisoner in question was flogged though he was not a felou, I have the honour to inform you that a similar provision existed recently in another Colony, and led, as in the case in point, to the improper application of corporal punish-

4. In that case I consented to an amendment extending the power of flogging to prisoners other than felons; and similarly in the present case, in view of the manifest inconvenience of such differences within the gaol in the treatment of prisoners, and considering that Chinese prisoners must be incapable of distinguishing between felons and misdemeanants, or of understand ing the reason why such a distinction should be, made between two prisoners in respect of punishment for the same offence against gaol discipline, I am prepared to approve of such an amendment as will extend the regulations in question to all prisoners should such an extension appear to be advisable. 5. In the meantime, until some such change is made, the legal punishment only is to be inflicted in each and every

> WE have had the pleasure of seeing a letter written by Sir Arthur Kennedy, Nov. 6th, from the Governor's summer residence at Toowoomba, in which he states that he is as well as need be. This may be taken as meaning that His Excellency is entirely recovered from the illness which prevented him from being present at the Exhibition a short time ago. But there can be no doubt of the accuracy of our statement the other night that Sir Arthur has had a slight touch of paralysis, and goes home soon to avert in possible that general break-down which so often ensues if the warning conveyed by paralytic stroke, however slight, to a man of his years, is left unheeded. Sir Arthu Kennedy has passed the allotted three score years and ten, and although he has always been most careful of his health, changing climates, a topical service and the tear and worry of gubernatorial duties tell wonder fully on the constitution. It does not follow that although Sir Arthur goes home now and is sure not to return to the Colonies, that a successor will be required a once. He would be entitled to no short leave and his successor would not be officially named until after his resignation was offil cially accepted. This is, of course, entirely apart from the question what particula reasons the Government may have for securing a vacant governorship to which they migh promote any one whose present abiding place is uncomfortably hot for him.

SUPREME COURT. IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

(Before His Hon. the Acting Paisne Judge J. J. Francis, Esq) Wednesday, Dec. 9.

LAI TANG CHUN v. LEUNG AYON, $60 -Mr Dennys for complainant; Mr Wetton, of Mesars Brereton and Wotton, for the defendant. In this case the plaintiff, Lai Tan Chun, a native doctor, sued Leung hension if not in the minds of the public, Ayon, the well-known ship's compradore dro., for $60, being fees for certain surgicaloperations alleged to have been performed by him upon the defendant. The case was last before the Court on the 2nd inst., when we briefly referred to it. The whole proceedings of the case are with such admirable fairness, terseness and clearness summed up by His Horor that we need give of it no more extended notice than is contained in his judgment. In this case, he said, Lai Tang Chun summoned the defendant, Leung Ayon. for work and labour done, claiming $60 for extracting 12 tumours at $5 each. When the case came on for hearing in the first instance there were two witnesses examined on behalf of the plaintiff, and the plaintiff himself on his own behalf. The plaintiff, the doctor, made a very clear and consistent statement; and, so far as it was possi ble to ascertain from his cross-examination and the way in which he gave his evidence, there was no exaggeration about it. The witnesses he called supported his statement, and, it must be said, gave their evidence very simply, very straightforwardly. The evidence of the whole of these three witnesses was consistent in itself and quite plain, the different witnesses were consistent enough with one another, and there were no signs of that exaggeration and gross misrepresentation which so frequently mark Chinese evidence. It was clear from the evidence that an arrangement had been come to between the parties that a certain operation should be performed by the plaintiff, the doctor, on Ayon, and also that an operation was performed, but it was equally clear on that evidence that the plaintiff in the case, the doptor, represented to Ayon that see the University in full swing, and the the disease from which he was suffering was a dangerous disease, that it was necessary growing apace. Had it been taken on the previous night, the number of captives might have been trebled. It is some satisfaction to know that by the new Pol.ce Act, which is to become law next month, al billiard rooms will require license from the necessary to publish an interim balanceauthorities, and will be subject to strict control of the police. Some other "institutions" in town will be cleared out and heir tenants will be dispersed. Another revelation of no very satisfactory kind has just come about : I refer to the initiatory proceedings of the Muiual Supply Association of Scotland. This concern was launched three or four months ago with a cosy prospectus, a promise of big profits and an assurance of groceries, millinery and all domestic wares at low prices and of excellent quanty. Premises had been secured in Glasgow and Edinburgh, and with an able staff, business might be commenced at once. There are always people who will cutch at any "spec," and so the Mutual got many applications for shares the necessary number of shares were alloted and business was started with more than £20,000 in Bank. Then ouzed out the nature of an agreement which had been only generally referred to in the prospectus. this had been entered into with five indivictuals who had given up their business premises to the 'Mutual.' The directors La appointed these to be manager, salesmen, etc., at maiaries from £200 to £500 each for a series of years. In addition to that these "vendors" stipulated for 25 per cent. of the profits for ever during the continuance of the association; and besides that they were to have, what one would not expect how to hear of in floating a company for he supply of bread and cloth in Scotland, promotion money to the tune of £2250. the City of Glasgow Bank may be quoted against bootch 'canniness'; but we would rather "never mention it." Mr Grieve of Greenock, the ex at. P., was one of the directors, but on coming to know of this agreement he resigned. Then he issued an in dignant erroular, and that was followed by exuting meetings of the shareholders ia Glasgow and Edinburgh; an attempt was made at the meeting here to explain away the agreement, in which the chief difficulty was to substantiate that the businesses which had been purchased or the abilities of the vendors were worth the terms which had been agreed to. Mr Grieve and other If the contract was brought about in this old plan must work its way-perhaps hapobjecting shareholders atuak to their gues

ORIENTAL BANK CORPORATION. The half-yearly meeting of the Oriental

Bank Corporation was held on 24th Oct. at the Cannon-street Hotel; Sir William J. W. Baynes presiding. The balance-sheet for the half-year ended June 30th last, which we append, was taken as read. The Chairman said, in compliance with the wish of shareholders, there had been printed and circulated copies of the balancesheet for the half-year. That was the first occasion on which it had been considered sheet, but there were reasons why it was desirable to do so at this time. The shareholders would observe that the particulars were fuller than heretofore, and that the accounts had been examined and certified by the auditors. This, too, was an unusual proceeding at the end of the half-year, but the directors felt sure that it would be as satisfactory to the shareholders as to themselves to have the accounts efficiently verified, and they had to thank the auditors for undertaking the additional task, the duties before having been the examination of the accounts at the end of each year. His duty was to declare an interim dividend for the tinent to the subject, and he could only say half-year of 10s. per share, equal to 4 per on behalf of the Board, if the honourable cent. per annum, on the capital of the proprietor would give a list of the informcorporation. This payment would absorb ation which he thought the shareholders £30,000 of the profits, the balance of ought to be supplied with, the Board would £11,784 being carried forward. In August take the matter into consideration, with the last rumours were circulated injurious to fullest desire to furnish the fullest informthe interests of the bank, and calling for ation consistent with the interests of the notice. Just at that time information reached | bank. With regard to Ceylon, part of their managers in keeping their he might mention that a severe state of treasuries fuller and resources nearer at depression prevailed there, and two failures diminishing business at Shanghai and Hong Keing, as well as making retrenchments elsewhere. The sphere of the business had, in fact, been too extensive for the capital and the power of the directors. The closing of the African branch had been in their minds, but if it had been announced prematurely the effect would have been prejudicial to the husiness and to their earrying such agreement as they had been able to make with the new bank in Africa on terms which the Board believed would be mutually all outstanding matters without charge, except in special cases. The new bank, well supported by directors of local interest, By Coin and Bullion - - - 1,873,055. 8. 0 had been safely launched with every chance of complete success. With regard to business generally, the directors were scrutinising very sedulously every particular and item of expenditure, more particularly the cost of the estalishments. They had already effected considerable economy, and the results would appear in due course. After referring to the retirement, in May last, of their late chief manager, Mr Patrick Campbell, after an esteemed service of 32 years, the Chairman announced that Mr William Mather Anderson, a well-tried officer, in whom the Board had every confidence, had been promoted to the position. Half of his colleagues were new directors, but all were though they had come as utter strangers, and unfettered by the previous policy of the Board, and irresponsible for everything in the past, it was a pleasure and a satisfaction for him to be able to say that all were working in perfect accord. They should know the cost of the working of the bank in its various branches, with the gross earning and the net profit of each. They should know the nature of the landed and other property of the corporation, and he thought, indeed, the same remark applied to other heads in the accounts.

Another Shareholder pointed out that the debts secured by landed and other property had been increased by about £36,000. He had shown on a previous occasion that the directors were not empowered to advance money on landed or other property, but if they could not recover money on bills, they were empowered to take landed or other property as a further security. He thought the expenses were rather greater than they

Mr. H. Dumphy (a shareholder) congratulated the directors on the improved position of affairs and spoke in reference to the establishment charges. Another Shareholder: Does the allowance in the balance sheet include all bad and doubtful debts? The Chairman: You may take it as all. Hear, hear.)

Another Shareholder put a question as to whether one af the directors (Mr. John Young) was to be a director of the bank in

The Chairman, replying to the various questions, said with regard to the remarks of Dr. Mount, both he and the other directors heard the observations with great attention. The remarks were very perhand. Although the directors believed the had occurred.
